CIGARS ARE WONDERFUL.
I don't really smoke normally, but I challenged myself to a cigar to feel like Mr. Monty.
SMELL LIKE FOREST ...!
RIGHT?
NO
This is nice.

BRITISH CRUISER TANK Mk.VIII,CROMWELL Mk.IV (A27M)

Der Cruiser Tank Mk VII Cromwell (Cromwell Cruiser Tank) wurde ab 1941 nach einer Anforderung des britischen Generalstabs gebaut. Man wollte bei ihm die Erfahrungen, die man mit dem Crusader gemacht hatte und erweiterte die Panzerung (bis 76mm)
Der Cromwell war daher deutlich schwerer als der Crusader, erhielt eine zusätzliche Kraftrad einer durch einen amerikan Kalle Bogie Meinor Meter weit (der V 12-Meter war der erste zweckmässige Motor in einem britischen Panzer)
Er wurde dadurch zum schnellsten britischen Panzer der Kriegsjahre.Aufgrund des unproportionalen stärken Verschleisses an der Kettenlaufanlage, wurde die Höchstgeschwindigkeit letztendlich zugunsten der Instandhaltung herabgesetzt.
Die Serienfertigung begann im Januar 1942 (bei Leyland Motors)
Die Cromwell Mk I bis III hatten eine 6-Pfünder-Kanone (57mm). Der Cromwell Mk IV kam im Oktober 1943 zur Truppe und führte eine 75-mm-Kanone ein, die munitionsmäßig zu der der amerikanischen M4 Sherman war
